

Community Learning & Development BA (Honours)

Award Bearing Programme

The University of Aberdeen, in partnership with local Community Learning and Development managers is offering a BA (Hons) in Community Learning and Development. It has received approval from the CLD Standards Council, the professional body for Community Learning and Development.

The Programme will begin in September and will be a workplace based route to the professional qualification. Participants will study at the same time as being employed or working on a voluntary basis.

Who is the programme intended for?

It will be suitable for participants who wish to gain the professional qualification. It will interest those working in youth work, adult learning and community development from a wide range of backgrounds, including community work, housing, planning and other community linked professions.

Entry Requirements

Participants will come from a wide range of backgrounds and will be experienced in the field. They will be able to meet the demands of study at undergraduate level. Participants will be working or volunteering for 17+ hours per week.

Shortlisted applicants will be interviewed and will have the opportunity to discuss how their qualifications and experience meet the entry requirements.

The programme is also linked to and provides progression from the HNC Working With Communities at Aberdeen College.

Community Learning & Development BA (Honours)

Award Bearing Programme

Duration

The programme is designed to be flexible to individual circumstances. The demands of the programme take into account that some participants will be working full time.

Content

The programme is linked to the competences prescribed by the CLD Standards Council and consists of courses linked to these competences.

Diagram courtesy of the CLD Standards Council for Scotland

Community Learning & Development BA (Honours)

Award Bearing Programme

Delivery Arrangements

The programme is offered through blended learning. This includes study blocks of 2 or 3 days and ICT is used to support peer learning. The importance of on-line learning will require students to have access to either work based or home based computing/internet facilities.

Cost (correct at time of publishing)

The Cost of the programme is £225 per 15 credits.

Each academic level consists of 120 credits.

For further information and an application form please contact:

Community Learning & Development Programme Secretary, 5th Floor, School of Education,
University of Aberdeen, MacRobert Building, King's College, Aberdeen AB24 5UA

Tel: +44 (0) 1224 274629 Email: pgclcd@abdn.ac.uk

Please note application forms should be submitted by the 1st of August.

More information about all of our courses and programmes is available by visiting www.abdn.ac.uk/education