

Department of History Seminar Programme 2009-2010

Seminars take place on Mondays at 5.15 p.m. in King's College F22, unless noted otherwise.

SEMESTER TWO

8 February 2010

Dr Gianluca Raccagni, Canon Foundation Research Fellow, University of Tokyo

The Italian Schools of Rhetoric, their verisimilar models of letters and speeches and the crusade against Emperor Frederick II (1225–1250)

15 February 2010

Dr Elisa Newby, Fitzwilliam College, Cambridge

The Bank of England as a Paper Mint? Suspension of the Gold Standard 1797–1821

22 February 2010

Dr Rachel Bright, University of East Anglia

Asian Migration and the 'British' World, 1850–1914

1 March 2010

Professor William Naphy, University of Aberdeen

Calvin and the Constitutional Foundations of the Republic of Geneva

8 March 2010

Dr Caroline Erskine, University of Aberdeen

Blowing his own Trumpet? John Knox and the Consolidation of the Scottish Reformation

15 March 2010

Mr Daniel Maccannell, University of Aberdeen

Proclamation/Mocklamation: Towards a history of public news processes before the 'News Revolution'

22 March 2010

Dr Frederik Pedersen, University of Aberdeen

Murder, Mayhem and a Very Small Penis

19 April 2010

Dr Alex Spelling, University of Aberdeen

Edward Heath and the Special Relationship – A Reinterpretation

N.B. Extraordinary non-sequential meeting:

26 April 2010 (Sponsored by the German Consulate General, Edinburgh)

Professor Heinrich August Winkler

Still a Community of Values? Historical Reflections on the Normative Basis of the West

N.B. Extraordinary non-sequential meeting:

29 April 2010 (Jointly with Geography & Environment)

Dr Kathy Burrell, De Montfort University [title TBD]

3 May 2010

Ms Amy Blakeway, Clare College, Cambridge

Regency in Sixteenth-Century Scotland

10 May 2010

Dr Catriona Kennedy, University of York

Reading, Writing and Fighting: The literary contexts of soldiers' war narratives, 1793–1815