

nieverubaja@derecho.uba.ar

+54 911 49 91 86 86

BUENOS AIRES - ARGENTINA

NIEVE RUBAJA

Nieve Rubaja holds a postgraduate degree in Family Law by the University of Buenos Aires, 2004, and is currently a candidate to a PhD in Private International Law at the same School of Law.

She has been teaching in the field of Private International Law since 1999 and in Family International Law since 2010. She has also been a visiting lecturer at several national universities both in undergraduate and graduate courses.

Her interests are in International Child Abduction, Maintenance Obligations, International Adoption and International Surrogacy Arrangements. Apart from teaching, she has extensively published in these fields, as well as having carried out research. She has been a speaker at several conferences and congresses both in Argentina and abroad in the field of Private International Law. In 2012 her first book "Private International Family Law, from the Argentinean legal system perspective" was published by Thomson Reuters publishing house (ISBN 978-950-20-2370-0).

She is a member in the "Experts' Group on Recognition and Enforcement of Voluntary Cross-Border Agreements in international child disputes" 2013-2015 held by the Hague Conference on Private International Law and an academic contributor for the Latin American Meeting on the International Protection of Children and the Recovery of Maintenance Abroad, co-organised by the Hague Conference of Private International Law and the Heidelberg Center for Latin America 2013.

She is a Latin American correspondent at INCADAT (www.incadat.com)

She is a member of the American Association of Private International Law, the Argentinean Association of International Law and the Lawyers Bar Association of Buenos Aires.