

The Reproductive Medicine Clinical Studies Group (RM-CSG)

TERMS OF REFERENCE

The RM-CSG is a body which facilitates a multidisciplinary research network in reproductive medicine trials in the UK. It provides leadership in trials research within the reproductive medicine community and as such it should combine expertise with enthusiasm. The RM-CSG will facilitate assessment of clinical studies which could be run through the network. In addition it will have a role in providing advice to researchers on trials methodology and provide support for the organisation of approved trials. This could also include support for triallists and trials from beyond the Group
