

their friendly assistance towards the general massacres, fire raisings, and heart-burnings, which will abound at that period.

N.B.—A few second-hand gillotines expected from Lyons by the first steamer ; and M. N. D. has commissioned from his intimate friend Mustapha Pullhimitight-Ali-Smore, principal executioner to the Emperor of Morocco, a large assortment of bow-strings and sacks.—As from the unlooked for obstinacy of the Polish reformers, Marshal Diebitsch Zabalkanski has had as yet no use for his knouts, and as the Marshal has in the kindest manner offered the whole of his knouts to M. N. D. and agreed to take brandy in exchange, M. N. D. is also happy to say that he can sell that invaluable instrument the knout, at a reduced price.

☞ Wanted, a few blood-hounds, and about 200 men and poissardes, who will find caution to sing “Ca Ira,” and “the Marseilloise Hymn,” in the true Parisian style. Also, wanted about 500 able-bodied grave-diggers, and a few coal-lighters to assist in the Noyades.

INSURANCE.—As we have the best authority for supposing that the anarchy and confusion will commence immediately after the bill comes into operation, those wishing to be insured against having their throats cut, may apply as above ; and those who are anxious to serve as substitutes will meet with every encouragement.

M. N. D.

Principal Secretary for Aberdeenshire.
