ELECTORS Of ABERDEEN!

Mr. BANNERMAN is a Humbug! He got you the Tug—He got you the LIGHTHOUSE, but I got men to dig and build in the Harbour and at the New Pier, and you paid them!—and I got them to fill up and rebuild, and you paid them again and again!! And it would surprise you what I would do, if you would go on “ad infinitum”!!!

Mr. BANNERMAN has been in London Twice, devoting time and money to your service—and, along with the Public, Thrice in the Court of Session—and Once before the Privy Council, to upset a System of Burgh Government detested by you—which I, once, by mistake, denounced “as radically defective and improvident.”—Vide “LOOKING TO.” Wise and good man that I am, I would amend in jest. Mr. BANNERMAN, the rogue!—is in earnest. My Friends were sent for by the House of Commons, to be catechized by the late Lord Archibald Hamilton—expenses Paid.

Mr. BANNERMAN went of his own accord, and had to Pay his own Expenses—Blockhead!

But how much oftener have I and my Friends been in London on the Public Service!! 1810, 1813, 1819, 1828, 1829, for instance.—Vide Harbour Accounts, &c. under the head, “Parliamentary, Tavern, and other Expenses.”

Mr. BANNERMAN it seems, had a sum at his own disposal, which, if justice had been done in paying Expenses incurred in preventing the Harbour Bill being re-enacted, just as before, was to be at the disposal of the Magistrates—IN COMPLIMENT. They acted like ———. He appropriates it as he thinks proper, and PROCLAIMS HIS SHAME. O the Rogue! Let him speak out! Let him speak out!!

Dear Friends, Lord Eldon, sometime ago Lord Chancellor, had an excellent custom. Therefore, with TEARS in my eyes, I entreat of you, DO CRY

HADDEN for Ever!
