What is OWA for iPad/iPhone?

Microsoft’s OWA for iPad/iPhone app offer a similar experience to using the Outlook Web App webmail service (previously known as Outlook Web Access) in a browser, with the added benefit of iOS integration for notifications, as well as voice and swipe controls.

OWA for both iPad and iPhone are available as free downloads for Office365 users via the iTunes App Store. Like Outlook Web App, they do not offer all of the features of the full version of Outlook (for example you cannot set up additional profiles, create new folders, or configure rules). However, because they are Microsoft products, they support more Outlook features than the built-in iPad calendar (such as the ability to view shared calendars and use colour categories).

In terms of synchronisation, there is always a level of risk when using a mobile device for email and calendaring. This is because network connectivity is more variable on a mobile device than on a networked desktop PC.
