We are seeking support to help us deliver a quality Archaeological Research in Progress conference in a prestigious venue at the University of Aberdeen. Costs are increasing and we wish to keep ticket prices as low as possible so external support is vital. The wide range of sponsorship support we normally receive towards ARP also helps to demonstrate collaboration and highlights cross-sector support for the rapid dissemination of archaeological research.

There are various options that your organisation can choose to help. Supporting the one day conference provides you with the opportunity to promote your organisation while also supporting rapid knowledge dissemination, research excellence and interdisciplinary collaboration.

Sponsorship benefits include branding on all print and digital programmes, the opportunity to display material at the conference and delegate places.
