Introduction

Many individuals, families, organisations and businesses have deposited their papers with the University and as a result, it has acquired an unrivalled collection of material, not solely relating to the history and culture of the north-east of Scotland but of national and international importance.

Please note that this factsheet should be consulted in conjunction with the factsheets QG HCOL013: Agricultural and farming resources in Special Collections and QG HCOL018: Family and estate papers in Special Collections.

Archival collections

Family and estate papers

Many notable families have deposited their papers with the University and these archives are fantastically rich for the study of estate management including development of harbours and establishment of fishing communities.

Fraser of Philorth papers relating to the construction of a new pier in Fraserburgh, agreement with the Northern Lighthouse Commissioners about their buildings and maps and plans of the site. In addition there are a series of papers relating to the Broadsea fishing village including an inventory of fishing boats and houses from 1789 and other related papers about the community. (MS 3004).

Gordon of Cluny papers: Buckie Harbour plans: 1875 – 1877 (MS 3600).

Organisation papers
