Introduction

Many individuals, families, organisations and businesses have deposited their papers with the University; as a result it has acquired an unrivalled collection of material not solely relating to the history and culture of the north-east of Scotland but also of national and international importance.

Please note that the city boundaries have changed over time: the parishes of Peterculter, Dyce, Newhills and the Bridge of Don area of Old Machar parish were incorporated into the City of Aberdeen District in 1974 and thence into Aberdeen City in 1996. For papers relating to these specific areas see the factsheet relating to Aberdeenshire.

Please also note that this guide should be consulted in conjunction with the factsheets QG HCOL048: Resources relating to Old Aberdeen in Special Collections and QG HCOL044: Resources relating to Aberdeenshire in Special Collections. Also see QG HCOL054: Map and plan resources in Special Collections and QG HCOL010: Photographic resources in Special Collections.

Archival collections

University institutional papers

The University’s own records are diverse, ranging from the original senatus books to charters, dispositions, writs, and other legal documents relating to the regulation of the colleges, their teaching, and in support of their considerable landholdings. There are letters, licences and agreements between the two colleges of King’s (in Old Aberdeen) and Marischal (in the city of Aberdeen) and between them and the Town, Parliament, and even Crown; the colleges had a powerful political dimension and they operated on a local, national and international level. More comprehensively, from the 18th century onwards we have student registers, bursary and trust papers, inventories and catalogues, records regarding building repairs and papers concerning rectorial elections and staff appointments.

As well as papers of the University and its predecessor bodies, there are also records from the ‘Aberdeen Colleges of Education’, Christ’s College, Aberdeen, North of Scotland College of Agriculture and the Rowett Institute of Nutrition and Health.

The University’s collection of plans relating to Marischal College and the University of Aberdeen is a rich resource detailing the history of the University’s buildings. This extensive collection dates from the 1850s through to the mid 1960s; unfortunately many of the items are not dated: 1850s – 1960s (MSU 1494).

Personal papers

For papers relating to individuals from Aberdeen see the factsheet QG HCOL030: Personal papers in Special Collections.

Some collections are particularly useful for local history research:

Kelly, William, architect and antiquarian: papers, 1805 – 1944 (MS 2380 and MS 3859).

Simpson, William Douglas, historian and archaeologist, papers including collection of archaeological, monumental and architectural plans, 19th century – 20th century (MS 2729, MS 2818 and MS 3759).

Other relevant collections

Scottish Catholic Archives, Historic Archives

The Historic Archives of the Scottish Catholic Archives predominantly relate to the Catholic Church from the 12th century prior to the restoration of the Scottish Catholic Hierarchy in 1878. The collection contains material of regional, national and international significance and provides evidence of the survival of Catholicism both in Scotland and abroad through the archives of its missions, seminaries and colleges. There are also extensive collections relating to prominent Catholic families many in the north-east of Scotland.

See main website portal: www.abdn.ac.uk/library/about/special/scottish-catholic-archives/

NHS Grampian Archives

The archive dates from the founding of Aberdeen Infirmary in 1739 and contains substantial material relating to hospital provision, notably general and specialist hospitals, cottage hospitals and asylums across Aberdeen City: www.abdn.ac.uk/library/about/special/nhs-grampian-archives/

Medico-Chirurgical Society

The Aberdeen Medico-Chirurgical Society was founded in 1789 in response to the perceived lack of medical teaching offered by both King’s and Marischal Colleges. Its members contributed to the development of medical teaching and practice in Aberdeen and beyond in profound ways. For more information see the website but please note that although the catalogue is available via the University, the papers are held by the Medico-Chirurgical Society: www.abdn.ac.uk/library/about/special/projects/aberdeen-medico-chirurgical/

Printed collections

The Local Collection of printed material geographically speaking covers the north-east corner of Scotland and is available to consult on open-access in our Reading Room. It contains local area histories, plans and maps and reports of local institutions. Also in the Local Collection you will find a number of local newspapers. Many of these can only be consulted in the Reading Room on microfilm.

For more information on printed collections relevant to the local area see the factsheet QG HCOL028: Paper manufacturing, printing and publishing resources in Special Collections.
Access

Materials are available upon request for consultation in the Reading Room. Please search our online catalogues to identify individual items. www.abdn.ac.uk/library/about/special/search-catalogues/
