Introduction

Many individuals, families, organisations and businesses have deposited their papers with the University; as a result it has acquired an unrivalled collection of material not solely relating to the history and culture of the north-east of Scotland but also of national and international importance.

Please note that this factsheet should be consulted in conjunction with the other factsheets relating to the north of Scotland, and also QG HCOL054: Map and plan resources in Special Collections and QG HCOL010: Photographic resources in Special Collections.

Other relevant collections

Scottish Catholic Archives
There are numerous sources within the records of the Scottish Catholic Church. This extensive collection relates to the Catholic Church from the 12th century prior to the restoration of the Scottish Catholic Hierarchy in 1878. The collection contains material of regional, national and international significance and provides evidence of the survival of Catholicism both in Scotland and abroad through the archives of its missions, seminaries and colleges. There are also extensive collections relating to prominent Catholic families many in the north of Scotland. Of particular interest is the series: Oban letters: Highland, Western Vicariate: 1764 - 1863.

Printed collections

The Local Collection of printed material geographically speaking covers the north-east corner of Scotland and is available to consult on open-access in our Reading Room. It contains local area histories, plans and maps and reports of local institutions.

Also in the Local Collection you will find a number of local newspapers.

The printed collections have strength in depth and contain numerous items such as the published Transactions of the Gaelic Society of Inverness, Highland Society of Scotland and the Proceedings of the Society of Antiquaries of Scotland.

There are also named collections of relevance:

The Macbean Jacobite and Stuart Collection
This collection, donated to Aberdeen by the New York businessman William M. MacBean, is a resource of international importance, the finest collection of its kind outside the British Library. It includes both 17th and 18th century engravings, 19th century romantic and retrospective depictions of Jacobite history, and a rich variety of pamphlets and broadsides, with not a few manuscripts. Some 3,500 books and 1,000 pamphlets, as well as numerous engravings cover many aspects of the histories of the Stuarts and the Jacobite risings. Some are held in no other collection in the UK, and some are unique, with the collection also being added to continually.

For more information on the collection and to consult the catalogue see here. Also see Mabel Allardyce, Aberdeen University Library MacBean Collection (Aberdeen: Aberdeen University Press, 1949).

Also see Drawn Sword: Engravings and Woodcuts from the MacBean Jacobite and Stuart Collection, an online resource providing access to the c.1,300 loose engravings and woodcuts, including portraits, topographical subjects and historical incidents.
