

Song, Baillie Wilson of Arbroath—"Up and waur them a', Willie."

"The Society of Advocates" was given from the Chair, and Mr. L. Sheriffs returned thanks.

Mr. Burnett of Leys begged a bumper to a Gentleman present, who had formerly been in Parliament, and who, had he been now a member, would, he was certain, have supported the measure of his Majesty's Ministers—"Mr. Farquharson of Finzean."

Mr. Farquharson returned thanks. He had been, and was still, a Reformer; and were he in Mr. Ross's place, he could only say, that he would vote for the bill, the whole bill, and nothing but the bill.

Mr. Gamack, after a high eulogium on Mr. Ross's character, and that of the inhabitants of Aberdeen, proposed "A speedy disfranchisement to Aberdeen."

Mr. Cameron said, that the system of burgh election in Scotland had not a leg to stand upon; it was monstrously unjust. He begged to give "Burgh Reform." Drank with all the honours.

Mr. Blackie begged a bumper to an absent friend—Major Leith Hay, and may he soon be found sitting beside his friend Mr. Ross of Rossie in Parliament." (Loud cheers.)

Song, Mr. Simpson—"Our blue jacket King." Sung in admirable style, and amid the most rapturous applause.

Mr. Blackie had now to propose the health of one of the guests, whose unwearied exertions in the cause of Mr. Ross entitled him to the gratitude of every friend of that gentleman—Mr. George Smart. "Mr. Smart of Montrose." Mr. Smart returned thanks.

Song, Mr. Blackie—"Quaker's Wife."

The following were then proposed:—"Mr. Chalmers of Auldbar."—"The dignity of the Crown, the independence of Parliament, and the rights of the People," by Mr. Maule.—"Memory of Charles James Fox." Drank in solemn silence.—"Mrs. Maule of Panmure, Miss Ross of Rossie, and the Ladies of Forfarshire."—"Mrs. Blackie."—"Mr. Charles Grant, Member for Inverness-shire."—"Mr. Morison of Auchintoul."—"Mr. Forbes of Blackford."—"Mr. Farquhar," (only member of Town Council present;) by Mr. Blackie. Mr. Farquhar returned thanks.—"Lord Kintore."—"Lord Fife."—"Mr. Lumsden Sheriffs," who returned thanks.—"Mr. William Philip, Mr. John Thom, and Mr. Johnston."—"Dr. Skene and the Medical Profession." Dr. Campbell returned thanks.—"The memory of the Laird of Skene and Sir William Forbes of Craigievar." Drank in solemn silence.

Many other interesting and appropriate toasts were given,
