

POST-CONFLICT JUSTICE AND PEACEBUILDING (MSc/PgDip/PgCert)
57L3PCB1/61L3PCVX/62L3PCVZ

Duration: 12 months full-time or 24 months part-time (MSc); 9 months full-time (PgDip); 4 months full-time (PgCert).

Aims: The degree is designed for students wishing to develop an advanced knowledge of the intellectual terrain of post-conflict justice and peacebuilding and their contribution to sustainable peace and reconciliation between groups after conflict. It familiarises students with the central theoretical, conceptual, and empirical dimensions of post-conflict justice and peacebuilding as they have expanded and developed over the past twenty years. It also addresses the mechanisms by which justice is claimed to assist peacebuilding and reconciliation - memory, truth recovery, forgiveness and reparations – and examines the intersections between these two fields. As such, it subjects the processes of post-conflict justice and peacebuilding to critical reflection by considering the boundaries and interactions between the two, the limits to and challenges of administering mechanisms for justice and peace in conflict-affected societies, and the ongoing challenges for both of local ownership, evaluation, and sustainability. The degree works both as a stand-alone programme for students wishing to enhance their knowledge of this area to an advanced level in order to pursue a career in post-conflict justice and peacebuilding, as well as providing the necessary bases for students wishing to pursue PhD and related studies in transitional justice, peacebuilding, or reconciliation studies in the social sciences.
