Dear ...

On behalf of the University Court I am very pleased to write to set out the terms of your appointment as a member of Court and to confirm that you understand your responsibilities as a governor of the University.

The Court requires that you confirm in writing that in accepting your appointment as a member of Court you understand and agree to adhere to the terms of your appointment as set out in this letter. In accordance with the Court's Code of Conduct for members, I am also enclosing a register of interests and declaration of confidentiality form which I would also be grateful if you could complete and return. This will be made publicly available on the University's website.

Appointment

Your appointment is with effect from XXX to XXX.

The key aspects of your role as a governor are highlighted in this letter. Further details on the responsibilities of the Court and its members are provided in the Court Guidelines, a copy of which Bruce Purdon, Clerk to the Court, will send to you together with further joining information. Your attention is drawn, however, to the attached 'Code of Conduct for Members' adherence to which is a condition of your appointment as a member of Court. You should note in particular the guidance this provides on confidentiality and the registering of interests and gifts/hospitality offered to you in your capacity as a member of Court. I am obliged to advise you that failure to abide by the Code of Conduct for Members may result in the Court invoking its formal procedure for the removal of members. You should also be aware that members of Court are subject to the University's policies and procedures where these are relevant to the undertaking of your role as a governor.

Charities and Trustee Investment (Scotland) Act 2005

Members of Court are also formally Trustees of the University as a charity. By accepting this appointment, you are also confirming that under the above Act you are not disqualified from serving as a Trustee. The Act states that you are disqualified from serving if you are:

- someone with an unspent conviction for dishonesty or an offence under the Act; or
- an undischarged bankrupt; or
- someone who has been removed under either Scottish or English Law or the courts from being a charity trustee; or
- a person disqualified from being a company director

You are also asked to acknowledge that you understand that under the 2005 Act you have duties and responsibilities in law as a charity trustee as follows:

- (1) A charity trustee must, in exercising functions in that capacity, act in the interests of the charity and must, in particular—
  - (a) seek, in good faith, to ensure that the charity acts in a manner which is consistent with its purposes,
  - (b) act with the care and diligence that it is reasonable to expect of a person who is managing the affairs of another person, and
  - (c) in circumstances capable of giving rise to a conflict of interest between the charity and any person responsible for the appointment of the charity trustee—
    - (i) put the interests of the charity before those of the other person, or
    - (ii) where any other duty prevents the charity trustee from doing so, disclose the conflicting interest to the charity and refrain from participating in any deliberation or decision of the other charity trustees with respect to the matter in question

Time Commitment

Overall, we anticipate a minimum time commitment as a member of Court of 12-14 days per year excluding any induction activities. This will include attendance or participation in four meetings of the Court each year. This does not include any further commitment that the University may invite you to undertake at your agreement such as membership of sub-committees of the Court. We expect to offer all members the opportunity to join at least one of the Court's sub-committees and these meet between 2 and 5 times a year depending on the committee.

The University is required to declare the attendance of members of the governing body in its annual financial statements. Arrangements can be made for members to participate by video or tele-conference.

By accepting this appointment, you are confirming that you are able to allocate sufficient time to meet the expectations of your role.

- To play an appropriate part in furthering the values of higher education and the mission of the University of Aberdeen in particular;

- Code of Conduct for Court Members
- Register of Interests and Declaration of Confidentiality Form

Code of Conduct for Members of Court

This Code of Conduct applies equally to all members of Court and adherence with it is a condition of appointment to the Court.

The Court recognises that governing bodies are entrusted with public funds and, therefore, have a particular duty to observe the highest standards of corporate governance at all times and to ensure that they are discharging their duties with due regard for the proper conduct of public business. This is a collective responsibility but one which applies equally to individual members of the Court.

The Nine Principles of Public Life in Scotland

The Court wholly endorses the nine principles advocated by the Scottish Government's Model Code of Conduct for Members of Devolved Public Bodies and as recommended by the Scottish Code of Good HE Governance. These nine principles of Duty, Selflessness, Integrity, Objectivity, Accountability and Stewardship, Openness, Honesty, Leadership and Respect, form the basis for this Code of Conduct and are reproduced in full below.

In practical terms, these require that the Court and its members should observe the highest standards of integrity, objectivity and honesty in the transaction of all its business. Members of Court must act fairly and impartially in the interests of the University as a whole irrespective of which constituency they may have been appointed from. Governors must avoid any action which could bring the reputation of the University into disrepute.

Confidentiality

Members are asked to sign a declaration of confidentiality, unless confidentiality has been waived.

Court papers (including draft minutes) are considered to be confidential until after the meeting has taken place although the agenda is made available to staff and students on the website in advance of the meeting. Following the meeting, Court papers except those which are deemed to be confidential are made available to staff and students through the website. Court minutes after they have been approved at the subsequent meeting are made publicly available on the website.

Register of Members' Interests

It is well understood that all members of governing bodies must act, and be seen to act, impartially and not be influenced in their role by business, social or other relationships. It is not, however, deemed sufficient to avoid impropriety there must be avoidance of any occasion for suspicion or of the appearance of improper conduct.

The Court, therefore, has a Register of Members' Interests which is available for public consultation on the University's website. Court Members will be invited to complete their entry in the Register on an annual basis, but all members are asked to give the Clerk written notification of any significant additions to or deletions from entries as soon as these are known.

Declaration of Gifts and Hospitality Offered to members of Court

Court members should also register with the Clerk at any time details of any gifts and hospitality (to the value of £50 or over) offered to them in relation to their role on Court (excluding gifts or hospitality offered by the University itself). The University's expenses and benefits policy at section 3 UK Bribery Act and section 115 -117 (Gifts) provides further general guidance on gifts and hospitality as does section 1.6.8 of the Financial Regulations. These are available at:

Removal of Members of Court

The Scottish Code of Good HE Governance requires that a governing body must act to remove a member should they materially breach the conditions of their appointment. Adherence with this Code of Conduct is a condition of appointment. The Court has agreed that it will expect any member who is in gross or persistent breach of this Code of Conduct or whose behaviour is deemed to be inimical to the reputation of the Court and the University, to resign. The Court has also approved a formal procedure for the removal of members of Court which may be invoked where a member fails to abide by the Code of Conduct or other conditions of their appointment.

Acknowledgement of this Code

New members are asked in their letter of appointment to acknowledge that they are familiar with this Code of Conduct and that they understand their obligations under it. Individual members of Court are also asked each year – as part of the annual request to complete their entry in the Register of Members' Interests - to confirm their understanding of their responsibilities as members of the University Court and the declaration of confidentiality.

The Nine Principles of Public Life in Scotland

The Scottish Government's Model Code of Conduct for Members of Devolved Public Bodies indicates that the following nine general principles of conduct should be observed in public life:

Duty

You have a duty to uphold the law and act in accordance with the law and the public trust placed in you. You have a duty to act in the interests of the public body of which you are a member and in accordance with the core functions and duties of that body.

Selflessness

You have a duty to take decisions solely in terms of public interest. You must not act in order to gain financial or other material benefit for yourself, family or friends.

Integrity

You must not place yourself under any financial, or other, obligation to any individual or organisation that might reasonably be thought to influence you in the performance of your duties.

Objectivity

You must make decisions solely on merit and in a way that is consistent with the functions of the public body when carrying out public business including making appointments, awarding contracts or recommending individuals for rewards and benefits.

Accountability and Stewardship

You are accountable for your decisions and actions to the public. You have a duty to consider issues on their merits, taking account of the views of others and must ensure that the public body uses its resources prudently and in accordance with the law.

Openness

You have a duty to be as open as possible about your decisions and actions, giving reasons for your decisions and restricting information only when the wider public interest clearly demands.

Honesty

You have a duty to act honestly. You must declare any private interests relating to your public duties and take steps to resolve any conflicts arising in a way that protects the public interest.

Leadership

You have a duty to promote and support these principles by leadership and example, and to maintain and strengthen the public's trust and confidence in the integrity of the public body and its members in conducting public business.

Respect

You must respect fellow members of your public body and employees of the body and the role they play, treating them with courtesy at all times. Similarly you must respect members of the public when performing duties as a member of your public body.
