Throughout the year we host a variety of events for prospective students, parents, teachers and careers staff, including Open Day, an Offer Holder Day, and a year round open door visiting policy. We appreciate that not everyone can make it to campus so we also hold virtual events and offer a “chat live” facility throughout the year.

Our Student Recruitment team host a series of tours and visits of our campuses throughout the year. Our guided tours begin with a short presentation about the University, then a tour of the campus with one of our current students, followed by a visit to any department(s) of interest. Whether you choose to visit as part of a group, individually, or even through one of our online chats, our doors are always open.

We will send you an invitation to our Offer Holder Day with your offer letter. The Offer Holder Day is designed to give offer holders the chance to visit our campus and speak to academic staff in depth about their chosen subject. It’s also the perfect time to get a taste of student life on campus.

Your world of choice and flexibility

When you join the university, we officially admit you to a degree (such as the MA, BSc, BEng or LLB) rather than to any specific subject. This gives you the maximum of flexibility over your choice of courses that will make up the degree programme. The compulsory courses for your intended subject will occupy only part of your timetable in first and second year, and you will be free to fill your week with courses that interest you from other subjects, or from our selection of cross-disciplinary courses. Most students study three or even four subjects in first year, narrowing down to two in second year, and continuing with both for a Joint Honours degree, or specialising in just one for Single Honours. Perhaps you came with the intention of studying French, but thought you might sample some Anthropology in your first year; if you fall in love with this new subject it will be perfectly possible to continue with it in second year, or to change to a Joint Honours degree in French and Anthropology, or even to graduate with Single Honours in Anthropology. The subject choice that you put on your UCAS application is not binding, and you can usually change from one subject to another within the same degree as your interests develop. Even within the third year of a Single Honours degree, you will take a few credits from another subject. We call this flexibility Enhanced Study; it provides the much needed versatility and adaptability necessary for success in the job market in the 21st century.

Diverse City

The city that has it all

Britain’s safest city* and the third largest city in Scotland, Aberdeen is a place with a unique combination of historic and contemporary cosmopolitan charm. Bustling by day, lively by night, and a centre for industry, research, learning and life, flanked by both rugged coastline and beautiful countryside, Aberdeen truly has something for everyone. Big enough for the ‘big city’ experience, student-friendly Aberdeen is still small enough to make it easy to find your way around and make friends.

From the historic 15th century University campus in Old Aberdeen, it’s just a short walk to the bustling city centre of Europe’s energy capital. It’s just half-an-hour from the buzz of Union Street to the tranquillity of the nearby hills and countryside in one of the most beautiful parts of Scotland.

Where else can you have lectures in the morning and ski in the afternoon, or sail, or windsurf, or hillclimb, or canoe or...? It’s all here – and all so close at hand.

At night Aberdeen really lights up with a nightlife second to none, with venues ranging from trendy clubs, to old-world pubs full of atmosphere, and everything in between. Our vibrant local music scene suits all tastes and includes regular major tour gigs by the biggest names around.

Aberdeen also caters for all tastes in arts, culture, leisure and entertainment with our well-known theatre and performing venues, cinema multiplexes, art gallery, maritime museum and first-class sports and leisure facilities.

And shopaholics be warned! Aberdeen has everything from designer boutiques and shopping malls with a distinctly European flavour to great value high street stores and charity shops filled with bargains to put together your own individual look.

Scholarships

We recognise that being a student can be costly, so we offer a wide range of scholarships which could help manage your expenses. Most scholarships are worth at least £1,000 for every year of undergraduate study for the length of your degree. Awards are split between merit awards, for students with exceptional academic qualifications, and access awards, for students who might find it difficult to enter higher education without financial support. Scholarships are also available for music and sport, and certain academic disciplines have their own scholarships available. Please note that scholarships and bursaries do not have to be repaid.

Primrose Sharon Bond (Mother)

Daliah Primrose Bond, MA History & PhD History

“We have always been a very close family, and I was worried that Daliah would be lonely without her brother and friends around. She had travelled before, but it felt different, her going to University. I actually think I was more nervous than Daliah who couldn’t wait to begin her new life.

My fears were quickly quashed as she met a lot of friends in her University Halls. She took advantage of the activities during Freshers’ Week and these girls are still her closest friends. She also became a student ambassador, and this has been a great source of pride for her. I have been particularly impressed with the opportunities that Aberdeen has afforded her.

Daliah was even supported to attend a British Council funded cultural exchange to China, for which only 20 students from Scotland were chosen.

At first I was worried about visiting Aberdeen, as we live near London, but the train and plane links are excellent. I am happy that Daliah sees Aberdeen as home, as well as her place of study. Daliah has always been passionate about her department, lecturers and courses. She loved it so much she decided to stay for three more years to complete her PhD in History.

The support and opportunities Aberdeen has given Daliah have helped to create the intelligent, creative and confident young woman I see come home on holidays, and I would have no hesitation in recommending the University.”

Parent and Applicant Information Evenings

We are hosting our annual series of Parent and Applicant Information Evenings in February 2018. These events provide you with a valuable opportunity to meet with staff from the University and receive information on your next steps, finance, university life and student support.
