Program Eligibility	Exchange Students must have completed at least one academic year at the home university and be nominated by the sending partner institution
Language Proficiency	Please note that most courses are taught in German and that only limited offers for courses are available in English. No formal requirement; but expecting intermediate language proficiency in German equivalent to B1. Biology, Medicine and German Studies require B2*. Medicine and Dentistry require C1 for the practical year. If courses in English are chosen, B2 is required (IELTS 5.5, TOEFL iBT 71, TOEFL ITP 527) *The specific language requisite of B2 for German Studies is a requirement from the German Department to emphasise that German Studies is a philology (i.e. the study of German linguistics, literature and culture) and not a language learning programme. Thus, the students intending to study German Studies must have at least a high B1 level overall and preferably a B2 level to be able to follow the lessons successfully. But if your nominee's level of language proficiency is a special case, please feel free to contact us for an individual clarification. After all, we wish your students to feel comfortable in their courses and to study successfully at JGU. When applying to JGU, your students need to indicate their language proficiency in the online application form for German Studies and to upload a confirmation for it. They don't need an official language test to prove their knowledge. A statement by the coordinator/ a university teacher from the home university that they study German Studies and/ or have advanced B1 or preferably B2 level is sufficient to get admitted.
