Primary Education MA (Hons)

A professional qualifying programme for primary teaching.

Primary Education at Aberdeen produces creative, motivated and highly-skilled primary teachers confident to work with children in any educational setting. You will benefit from flexibility, opportunity, research, new tools, exceptional staff, on campus and in school placement as you become equipped to inspire and guide young minds in the 21st century.

The programme leads to a qualification to teach children in the 3–12 age range and you will gain registration with the General Teaching Council for Scotland. Over four years, our courses combine academic study with practical application. Following graduation, you will receive ongoing support from our new teacher network and will have the opportunity to continue your academic and professional development.
